On Monday March 3, 2014, Pelham Council approved the recommendation to hire Terrance Wm. Glover as the new Director of Community Planning and Development.

Mr. Glover brings with him more than 18 years of urban planning experience and firmly believes that to be an effective planner one must consider and understand the unique needs of developers and local municipalities.

"I am eager to get started and look forward to rolling out the red carpet and reducing the red tape to keep Pelham moving in the right direction," commented Terrance Glover.

Previous positions with the City of Burlington, City of Guelph, City of Brantford and Town of Halton Hills have given Mr. Glover in-depth knowledge about building and urban design standards, heritage/archaeology, economic development, planning case law, transportation engineering, corporate governance, storm water management, brownfields, site alteration and the importance of conservation and accessibility.

Furthermore, Mr. Glover has extensive experience in administering building and subdivision applications, as well as dealing with official plan and zoning by-law amendments, property severances, minor variances and site plan control requirements.

His educational highlights include:

- a Bachelor of Applied Arts from Ryerson Polytechnic University in Urban & Regional Planning
- a Diploma from Mohawk College in Municipal Planning
- a "Level 1" (Sheridan College) and "Level 2" (Attorney General's Office of the State of Florida) certification of Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED)

Mr. Glover credits his tenure as a Director of CPTED Ontario for helping shape his philosophy that proper design and effective use of the built environment can help improve quality of life.

"Council and staff are excited for Mr. Glover to join our team," said Mayor Dave Augustyn. "We welcome his passion for improving communities for the betterment of all."
